ARTICLE III - EASEMENTS

Easements for the purpose of installing and maintaining utilities and drainage and other facilities are reserved as shown on the Plat. No structure, planting or other material shall be placed or permitted to remain within such easements which may damage or interfere with the maintenance of the utilities. The easement area of each lot and all improvements within it shall be maintained continuously by the owner of the lot, except those improvements for which a public authority or utility company is responsible.

ARTICLE IV - RECIPROCAL EASEMENT AGREEMENT

In the event a sewer line, water service, underground electrical service, or any other type of utility that services a dwelling crosses another owner's property, and a problem develops that requires excavating the surface in order to make repairs, and the property owners are not in agreement as to the cause or the blame, then before any excavation begins a Consulting Engineering firm must be employed to determine the cause and the blame. If the engineering firm determines that a property owner is the cause and is to blame, that property owner is bound by the engineer's decision and must bear the cost of the repairs and the engineering firm, and must return any other owner's property that was altered by the repairs to the original state within a reasonable time period or be subject to a lien against their property. If the engineering firm determines that the blame lies with the builder, developer or utility, then the property owner or owners shall use the proceedings at law to recover damages.

ARTICLE V - ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL COMMITTEE

Until such time as seventy percent (70%) of the Property is sold and conveyed, the architectural control committee shall be the Developer. At the time seventy percent (70%) of the Property is conveyed, the purchasers of said property shall elect as successors to the Developer a committee consisting of three (3) members each of whom shall be an owner of a part of the Property, and upon whose election shall replace the Developer as the body to approve any and all improvements, extentions or additions proposed to be made by any owner other than the Developer. Elections to the committed shall be held annually or upon the death or resignation of any member.

The Architectural Control Committee shall meet within fifteen (15) days after an owner has made application in writing to it for approval, also submitting at that time two (2) sets of plans and specifications. The committee shall render its decision within thirty (30) days after this meeting, either approving or disapproving the plans and specs, in the latter case, making specific reference to those features which caused disapproval. Approval may be conditioned upon completion within some specified period of time. All decisions shall be made by a majority vote of the committee and a failure of the committee to act will be considered approval.

ARTICLE VI - AMENDMENT OF COVENANTS

These covenants and restrictions may only be amended, changed or cancelled by a vote of seventy-five percent (75%) of the owners representing seventy-five percent (75%) of the Property.

ARTICLE VII - TERM

These covenants shall run with the land and shall be binding upon all of the parties and persons claiming under them for a period of twenty (20) years from the date these covenants shall be recorded, after which time such covenants shall be automatically extended for successive periods of ten (10) years unless an instrument signed by seventy-five percent (75%) of the Property owners has been recorded agreeing to change said covenants in part or in whole.

ARTICLE VIII - ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement shall be by proceedings at law in equity against any person or persons violating or attempting to violate any covenants either to restrain violation or to recover damages.

ARTICLE IX - SEVERABILITY

Invalidation of any one of these covenants by judgement of Court orders shall in no way effect any of the other provisions which shall remain in full force and effect.
